RICHARD JAMES NUTTALL
AND MARY ANN JONES

Richard James Nuttall was born September 19, 1858, in Provo, to William E. Nuttall and Rosamond Watson. He married Mary Ann Jones of Provo on September 2, 1880, in the Endowment House, Daniel H. Wells performing the ceremony.

Richard died January 27, 1923. Mary Ann died July 26, 1883 of childbirth. He married Margaret Jane Syme, daughter of Hugh and Elizabeth Buckley Syme, in the Endowment House, Daniels H. Wells officiating.

Richard Nuttall came to Heber with his parents when six years old. Here he attended school two terms under William Chatwin. His father did not have the means to give the children the education, so they had to strive for that themselves by studying at home and earning what they could for tuition and books. But his father gave him good training in all Church principles.

His first teacher after the family move to Wallsburg was Juliet Wall. He studied at home under his father's guidance.

To earn money for schooling he learned to be sawyer in his father's sawmill when he was 12. In 1875 he went to Park City to make lagging for the Ontario Mining Co., from which he made $60. He worked wherever he could, many times not receiving wages due him.

His uncle, Joseph Nuttall, suggested he try to attend the Brigham Young Academy and let him board with him, for which he could return work in the spring. With $5
